Faceoffs

Faceoffs occur at center ice, as follows:.

1. At the start of a game

Line Changes - when the buzzer goes players will change. The puck should be placed in a 50/50 corner before play starts. No player should get a breakaway off a line change. Referees may deem a faceoff if necessary.

Puck out of Play - referees should have extra puck in pocket to put in the nearest corner of play. If the referee does not have extra puck, they will retrieve the puck and put the puck into play at the nearest corner to create a 50/50 battle.

On goalie covers - referees must command the offensive team to back off from goalie so the defensive team can get the puck from goalie. Defensive team should have at least 10 feet of clearance before the game resumes.

Penalties - will be called and the player that is fouled receives a penalty shot from middle of ice. The penalty is whistled down immediately. (no delayed penalties)

- When a penalty is called, players go to the side and the puck is put at center ice for a penalty shot with the goalie (if the buzzer rings during this process, let the player complete the penalty shot). This process should be done quickly to not waste time. Defensive team will recover the puck after the save or goal.

To Clarify Two Types of penalties that will be called:

1. Dangerous plays
 - a. Dangerous plays are defined as any play that endangers the safety of another player. At this level collisions will happen but any major stick infractions or dangerous body contact as stated above should be called.

2. In the clear scoring chances
 - a. In the clear scoring chances are defined by any player in the clear attempting to attack the other net for a breakaway and is tripped or hooked down or purposely impeded, a penalty is called.

Major Penalty

- If a major penalty occurs the player is removed from the entirety of the game or jamboree depending on the referee discretion.
